

The audience numbers and response received at the opening of Sound Reasons III, as well as the feedback gathered about the sound sculptures and installations at the event, have assured us that our endeavour to support and promote sound art and electronic music is well-founded.

As a foundation that promotes intercultural exchange, the importance of building more diverse and deeply engaged audiences is paramount. Keeping this in mind, Pro Helvetia New Delhi will continue to support art forms that sit at the cusp of art and science.
