

Andreas Vogel and Sandi Paucic visit India at the invitation of the Kochi Biennale Foundation. Fifteen young curators from the Student's Biennale will be mentored by them across Delhi and Bangalore for an exhibition that will run parallel to the Kochi-Muziris Biennale 2016.

Sabine Himmelsbach, Director of the House of Electronic Arts Basel speaks at the Srishti Colloquium on Data Cultures. Artistic Practise in a Data-driven Society. The presentation will focus on works from the field of media arts that reflect life in a world increasingly controlled by data and that raise questions on the societal, political, cultural and social effects brought about by a data driven society.

Pro Helvetia New Delhi will continue in its endeavour to facilitate this information exchange to enable not just development of skills and competencies, but to further collaborations and partnerships.
