

Pro Helvetia promotes cultural interaction within Switzerland, and beyond its borders. That's why it supports arts projects that break down national and linguistic barriers - whether through a collaboration between Swiss percussionist Lucas Niggli and Karthik Mani, or a shared performance between Swiss musician Hans Koch and Indian danseuse Rekha Tandon or by sending Amitesh Grover, a theatre director and a multi-media artist on a residency to Rote Fabrik.

Pro Helvetia's liaison office in New Delhi aims to provide opportunities for mutual enrichment and exchange in arts and culture between India and Switzerland. The events planned during the next few months promise to be just that – a mutually enriching experience.

Looking forward to an enriching association,

Pro Helvetia New Delhi
